To consider installing white village gates

1. Introduction

This report considers the proposal to install white entrance gates at the main approaches to Cuckfield Village, specifically at Whitemans Green and the Ansty Roundabout entrance to the village. The purpose of the gates is to create a stronger visual gateway into the village, clearly indicating to drivers that they are entering a built-up area where lower vehicle speeds are expected.

The installation of village gateway features is a recognised traffic-calming measure that can help raise driver awareness, encourage speed reduction, and improve road safety for residents, pedestrians, cyclists, and other road users. By enhancing the sense of arrival into the village, the proposed white gates aim to reinforce existing speed limits and support a safer and more welcoming environment.

3. Recommendation

The difference in price between the two quotations is considerable. A third quotation was requested; however, no response has been received.

On a like-for-like basis, the quotations are £380 and £3,200.02 respectively.

These prices are for one gate only, therefore a decision will need to be made as to whether gates should be installed on both sides of the road.

Neither company provides installation as part of the quotation. Signage would also need to be arranged separately, although both suppliers are able to provide recommended suppliers for signage.
